CORRECTIONS OFFICER RETIREMENT PLAN, DEPARTMENT OF, LOCAL BOARDS

The administration of the Corrections Officer Retirement Plan and the responsibility for making the provisions of the plan effective for each employer are vested in a local board. The Department of Corrections, the Department of Juvenile Corrections, and each participating county shall have a local board.

For state departments, the local boards consist of: two members elected by secret ballot by members employed by that department in a designated position; two citizens appointed by the Governor; one member who is knowledgeable in personnel actions appointed by each of the Directors of the Departments of Corrections and Juvenile Corrections for their respective boards. Each state department local board shall elect a chairperson. For each participating county, the local boards consist of: the chairperson of the Board of Supervisors, or a designee who is approved by the Board of Supervisors, who serves as chairperson; two members elected by secret ballot by members employed by the participating county in a designated position; and two citizens appointed by the chairperson of, and with the approval of, the Board of Supervisors, including one citizen who is the head of the merit system if it exists for the members. For political subdivisions, the mayor or chief elected official or a designee approved by the respective governing body as chairman, two members elected by secret ballot by members employed by the appropriate employer, and two citizens, one of whom is the head of the merit system if it exists for the group of members, appointed by the mayor or chief elected official and with the approval of the city council or governing body of the employer.

Local boards: decide all questions of eligibility and service credits and determine the amount, manner, and time of payment of any benefit under the plan; determine the right of a claimant to a benefit and afford a claimant or the fund manager or both the right to a rehearing on the original determination; request and receive from the employers and from members information necessary for the proper administration of the plan and action on claims for benefits and forward the information to the fund manager; distribute in an appropriate manner information explaining the plan which the fund manager receives; furnish the employer, the fund manager, and the legislature on request annual reports with respect to the administration of the plan; appoint a medical board composed of a designated physician or clinic other than the employer's regular employee or contractor; and sue and be sued to effectuate the duties and responsibilities set forth. EARLY INTERVENTION PROGRAM, ARIZONA (AzEIP)

1717 W. Jefferson St.

Phoenix, AZ 85007

(602) 542-5577

Executive Director: Molly Dries, M.S.

The Arizona Early Intervention Program (AzEIP) optimizes the developmental potential of Arizona children (birth to three years of age who have developmental delays or established conditions known to be associated with developmental delays) and their families, through the development and implementation of a comprehensive, coordinated, community-based service delivery system which is family focused and culturally appropriate. AzEIP is governed by the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), Part C, Infants and Toddlers with Disabilities. Executive Order 89-11 designates the Department of Economic Security (DES) as the lead agency for IDEA, Part C, and establishes the Interagency Coordinating Council to advise and assist DES in maintaining and implementing an early intervention system as described by IDEA, Part C. DES fulfills its responsibilities as lead agency through the office of AzEIP.

GRAZING LAND VALUATION COMMISSION

1616 W. Adams St.

Phoenix, AZ 85007

(602) 542-4621

Director: Michael Anable

The Grazing Land Valuation Commission, formed not more frequently than every five years, consists of five members appointed by the Governor: a state-certified professional appraiser; a professor serving on the faculty of the College of Agriculture at the University of Arizona; a retired employee of a financial institution that is actively engaged in agricultural lending; a non-state lease holder who primarily derives income from livestock grazing; and a conservationist representing a natural resource conservation district in Arizona. The Commission serves for one year from the date the members assume office during which period the Commission will complete the appraisal. The Commission gathers the necessary information using both the market and income approaches to prepare an appraisal to determine the true value of the forage on state grazing land. The report recommends a grazing fee that will equal the true value as recommended by the Commission. The information and work products gathered in preparing the appraisal will be available to the public. The Commission, in determining the rental rate using the market approach, determines the typical lease of two years or more of private grazing land located in Arizona. The Commission compares all factors that make up the bundle of rights and obligations in the typical private lease; documents all adjustments, calculations, and assumptions made in reaching a conclusion of true rental value for the state land grazing fee; and determines economic benefit, burden, or value attributable to each of these factors. A.R.S. § 37-285.

No recent appointments have been made.

GREATER ARIZONA DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY

3800 N. Central Ave., Ste. 1500

Phoenix, AZ 85012

(602) 280-1360

Chairperson: Margie Emmermann

Executive Director: Tom Belshe

The Greater Arizona Development Authority is governed by a board of directors consisting of the following members: the Director of the Department of Commerce who serves as the chairperson; the Director of the Department of Environmental Quality; the Director of the Department of Transportation; the State Treasurer; and five members appointed by the Governor for five-year terms, one of whom shall be a member of an Indian tribe of Arizona. All appointed members shall reside in different counties, and no more than three members may be members of the same political party. No appointed member may serve more than two consecutive terms, except that service for a partial term of less than three years shall not be counted toward the two-term limitation. Members require Senate confirmation.

The Authority, through its Board, may: issue bonds to provide financial assistance to political subdivisions and Indian tribes for constructing or improving infrastructure, with the bonds in the name of the Authority; provide financial assistance to political subdivisions and Indian tribes to finance infrastructure projects; guarantee debt obligations of political subdivisions and Indian tribes that are issued to finance infrastructure projects; provide technical assistance to political subdivisions, special districts, and Indian tribes through staff or other professional assistance; apply for, accept, and administer grants and other financial assistance from the U.S. Government and from other public and private sources to carry out its responsibilities. The Board approves all policies and procedures of the Authority, determines which projects receive technical and financial assistance; and approves loan repayment agreements entered into with political subdivisions and Indian tribes. HEAD START COLLABORATIVE ADVISORY COUNCIL

1700 W. Washington, Room 101B

Phoenix, AZ 85007

(602) 542-3199

Fax: (602) 542-4644

Director: Jan Wenning

The Head Start Collaborative Advisory Council consists of 25 members appointed by the Governor. The Governor or the Governor's designee serves as chair of the Council. Members include directors or designees of state agencies that serve the developmental needs of young children, representatives of public or private community-based organizations that deliver services to children and their families, members of the business community, citizens interested in children and youth programs, elected officials, and five members who are directly involved with the Arizona Head Start programs and services who shall include the president of the Arizona Head Start Association, a representative of a rural Head Start grantee agency, a representative of an urban Head Start grantee agency, a Head Start parent, and a representative of a Tribal Head Start grantee agency.

The Council advises and helps in the development, implementation, and evaluation of a statewide plan that will include policies and program practices to promote collaboration among federal, state, public, and private agencies that serve the health, well-being, and developmental needs of young children and their families. In addition, the Council reviews the status of early childhood programs and comprehensive services for young children and families. These programs and services may include, but are not limited to, health care, child care, welfare, early childhood education, community service programs, literacy, and activities relating to children with disabling conditions. The Council makes recommendations to the Governor for the development and application of interagency strategies, public policies, and legislative initiatives that will promote communication, partnerships, and service delivery practices to provide comprehensive early childhood and related family services that promote child development and family self-sufficiency.

The Council appoints a Collaborative Technical Committee appointed by the Advisory Council and comprised of representatives of the Division for Children, state agencies that provide services for young children and their families, the Arizona Head Start Association, program and policy experts in the field of early childhood and related family services, and others designated by the Council. This Committee supports and complements the activities of the Advisory Council and assists the Advisory Council with technical research and program information needed to effectively meet the Advisory Council's goals. WATER BANKING AUTHORITY COMMISSION, ARIZONA

Arizona Department of Water Resources

500 N. 3rd St.

Phoenix, AZ 85004

(602) 417-2410

Director: Joe Smith

Manager: Tim Henley

The Arizona Water Banking Authority's purposes, powers, and duties are executed by the Arizona Water Banking Authority Commission. The Commission consists of the following members who are residents of this state: The director of the Department of Water Resources who serves as chairperson of the Commission; the president of CAWCD or a representative designated by that president; and three persons appointed by the Governor, one knowledgeable in water resource management, one representing an entity that holds a Central Arizona Project municipal and industrial subcontract, and one representing an entity located in a county adjacent to the mainstream of the Colorado River that holds a valid contract with the Secretary of the Interior executed before June 1, 1996, for diversion and beneficial consumptive use of Colorado River water in that county. Commission members appointed by the Governor serve six-year terms beginning on the third Monday in January. The President of the Senate, or a Senator designated by the President, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, or a Representative designated by the Speaker, shall each serve as nonvoting ex officio members of the Commission. A.R.S. § 45-2421. Members appointed by the Governor require Senate confirmation.

The Authority, acting through its Commission, administers the Arizona Water Banking Fund; coordinates its staffing needs with the director and CAWCD; coordinates the storage of water and distribution and extinguishment of long-term storage credits with the Director and the water management objectives; coordinates with CAWCD for the purchase, delivery, and storage of Colorado river water delivered through the Central Arizona Project; coordinates and confers with state agencies, municipal corporations, special districts, authorities, other political subdivisions, private entities, Indian communities, and the United States on matters within their jurisdiction relating to the policy and purposes of the Authority; determines, on an annual basis, the quantity of Colorado river water to be stored by the Authority and where that storage will occur; accounts for, holds, and distributes or extinguishes long-term storage credits; adopts an official seal for the authentication of its records, decisions, and resolutions; and keeps the minutes of its meetings and all records, reports and other information relating to its work and programs in permanent form, systematically indexed and filed.

The Authority, acting through its Commission, may: apply for and hold water storage permits; accrue, exchange, assign, lend, and hold long-term storage credits; exchange Colorado river water for any type of water; enter into water banking services agreements; charge fees for water banking services; apply for and hold any water quality permit required for water storage by the Department of Environmental Quality under state or federal law; make and execute all contracts, including intergovernmental agreements necessary to: obtain for storage Colorado river water delivered through the Central Arizona Project agreements by which the authority obtains Colorado river water are exempt from the requirements of state statute; obtain effluent for storage but only after the authority has stored all available excess Central Arizona Project water or when Central Arizona Project water is otherwise unavailable or undeliverable; affiliate water storage permits held by the Authority with storage facility permits; store Colorado river water at permitted storage facilities; distribute long-term storage credits earned by the Authority to make water available to municipal and industrial users of Colorado river water in this state that are inside or outside of the CAWCD service area; store Colorado river water in Arizona on behalf of appropriately authorized agencies in California and Nevada; cause a decrease in Arizona diversions from the Colorado river, ensuring that Arizona will use less than its full entitlement to Colorado river water in years in which California and Nevada agencies are contractually authorized to call on the water stored on their behalf by the Authority; distribute long-term storage credits earned by the Authority on behalf of agencies in California and Nevada to Colorado river water users in Arizona to use in place of Colorado river water that would have otherwise been used by those Arizona users; sue and be sued; and perform all other acts necessary for the authority to carry out its purposes, powers and duties in accordance with this chapter.
